DETAILS OF TUITION FEES

1- Tuition fees

Enrolment fees (deposit)

Once you have been made an offer, to secure your place we ask you to pay the enrolment fees (deposit) before the payment deadline mentioned in your offer letter or email. Your deposit is non-refundable in the case of withdrawal from the programme, except in one or several of the following circumstances:

unsuccessful completion of a qualification required for entry to the programme (documentary proof required);
rejected student visa application for study in France (documentary proof required);
withdrawal from the programme within 2 weeks of payment of the deposit;
in the event of serious exceptional circumstances.

Tuition fees

Tuition fees include all teaching on your programme plus any visits or conferences organised by the Institute.

Postponement of integration

In certain cases (failure to obtain a visa, the required diploma, accident, illness, etc.) it is possible to obtain a one-year postponement of integration. The benefit of the admission is thus retained and the candidate can join the school at the beginning of the intake.

Requests for postponement of integration must be made by email to admissions@institutpaulbocuse.com one month before the start date of the programme. It is up to the Director of the School to accept or not.

A request for postponement does not change the registration procedure in the school. In particular, it does not exempt the candidate from paying the registration fee within 3 calendar weeks after the announcement of the result, nor from providing the diploma one month before the start date of the programme.

In case of visa refusal the following year, the registration fees are refunded according to the following conditions terms and conditions of reimbursement of the teaching contract.

Request for Cessation

In certain cases (accident, illness, personal project, etc.) it is possible to obtain a break from school depending on the academic calendar and the progress of the studies.

Requests for a break must be made in writing to the program directors

2- Additional expenditure

The following expenses are not included in your tuition fees. Full details of additional expenditure are provided in the tables below.

Uniforms, work clothing and equipment

On your first day at the Institute, we'll provide you with a trousseau, including a uniform. According to your programme of study, you'll also need specific work clothing and equipment.

Food and drink

At the start of each academic year, we will credit your student campus card with an amount considered to be sufficient to cover the purchase of food and drink at our campus outlets for the year. The amount pre-paid on your card must be spent within the academic year. It can neither be refunded nor transferred to another academic year. You are able to top up your card at any moment and benefit from a 150 € package in one of our two restaurants: The Institute in Lyon and Saisons in Ecully.

Learning material

The cost of learning material covers: the ISIC international student card, the kit for the start of the new academic year, books and learning material, copyright licences, MS Office 2013 and 2016 software licences, Cesim Business Game, and full access to our online library.

Please note that you will be required to provide your own laptop computer (PC or Mac) adapted to modern office automation uses.

Alumni network membership

With more than 3,000 former students present in nearly 100 countries across the globe, our Alumni network is renowned for the quality of its professional and multi-disciplinary initiatives organised for the benefit of our students and graduates. Your annual membership means you'll be the first to receive amazing network placement and job offers, and you'll have access to our full online alumni directory, not to mention networking opportunities and events to guide and support you in preparing for your career ahead.

Sports and leisure activities

At Institut Paul Bocuse, we consider that sports and leisure activities should be an integral part of your student experience for the contribution they make to your personal development and well-being. Activities are organised by the Campus team. The practice of sport is mandatory for first year students.
